

Terms of Usage

- Non-commercial use
idiomag API is free for non-commercial use. “Non-commercial” applies to applications for personal or shared use, for which there is no plan to generate a profit. A non-commercial license also covers internal development or testing.
- Commercial Use
We rarely charge for commercial use, but we do reserve the right to start charging fees. We will usually only do this if you are generating substantial revenues from, or gaining significant commercial advantage by, using idiomag data.

“Commercial” applies to applications that will generate profit, either directly or indirectly, for you or your organization. If you are selling advertising that is barely covering your running costs, we consider that non-commercial. If you are making a good profit from your site, and are using data from idiomag to enhance the site, that’s probably commercial.

Please be reasonable with your access to the API - we will be watching. If you are expecting to use it an insane amount, please email us at api@idiomag.com

Terms of Service

- idiomag grants You a limited terminable licence to copy and use the idiomag Data, subject to certain restrictions set out in these Terms and any additional restrictions arising from changes to idiomag's Privacy Policy from time to time.
- Although You are granted this licence without charge, idiomag reserves the right to share in revenue generated from your use of idiomag Data in future on terms to be negotiated in good faith between idiomag and You.
- This Agreement covers only Your use of idiomag Data. You must not sub-license the idiomag Data to others.
- You must not transmit, export, transfer, divert, or send any idiomag Data to any country without obtaining any consents or authorisations required by law or regulation in such country.
- You must credit idiomag and include links to the idiomag site when You use the idiomag Data.
